The Holidays Are Bright at BALBOA ISLAND MUSEUM

Exclusive, one-of-a-kind, Christmas ornaments plus toys, games, puzzles, and even the Balboa Paddington Bear await families visiting the Balboa Island Museum this magical holiday season.

Museum CEO and Director Shirley Pepys, founder of Balboa Island Museum, celebrating its 25th year on famous Marine Avenue on Balboa Island once again curates a unique collection of holiday ornaments exclusive to the museum store. Miniature replicas of world-famous local Newport Beach/

Balboa Island harbor landmarks have been designed and lovingly crafted into the Balboa Pavilion, the Island's famous frozen banana, the Newport Harbor Duffy boat, and the Welcome to Balboa Island Ferry sign.

Both Shirley and her daughter Tiffany Pepys Hoey, share remarkable careers in design reflected in not only the unique holiday gifts in the museum boutique, but in the spirited and joyful holiday décor welcoming guests, seven days a week to tour all the museum exhibits, free of charge.

Of special note, a giant Paddington Bear will be front and center to greet the kids, young and young at heart. On December 14, from noon to 3 pm, it will be Paddington Bear Day at the museum. Don't miss a drop-in between December 18-22 during the daytime before the world-famous Newport Harbor Boat Parade. The seasonal magic will delight even the Grinch!

Upon visiting, consider becoming a member of the museum family. A modest donation of $50 opens the door to a year of amazing member-only events including gallery openings, special exhibits, lectures from noted speakers, social events, community outreach with veterans, city leaders, educators, artists and so much more. Children witness local history come alive as school tours from pre-K through high school visit regularly. And, next time you fly out of John Wayne Airport, be sure to see the Balboa Island Museum satellite exhibit in Terminal B-C.
