A SUNDAY PICKNIC IN A SHANGHAI PARK

Mei Lung's favorite three
B-Girls at her Bar, not prostitutes

This day, Mei Lung had her personal Chauffer driven car, a large Chevrolet vehicle that easily held the 7 of us. (unusual in those hard times) pick her up at Mei Lung's Bar along with Bill and Jim and her three favorite "B Girls" and drive them to a beautiful local park for a picnic. This was a very special treat for all of us as she seldom brings out the car or invites GIs. Jim was there, but no picture of him there.

Le Le Wong & Bill (at 19) in Mei Lung's Bar

Mei Lung, owner of a popular bar in Shanghai frequented by GIs

After the Chinese war with Japan, The City of Shanghai gave to the U.S. Military, the Shanghai Race Course, a former horse race track and its buildings, to the U.S. Military for a joint Army-Navy recreational area staffed with Chinese girls to entertain the GIs. This is where Bill met Mary and spent time with her for just two days until spotted by Le Le Wong, almost terminating their close friendship.
